Last Friday, there was a drama at Mzee Bwonda's home. The attempt was to marry off his 15 - year - old daughter ended in tears. Nobody knew how police got information about the marriage ceremony. It was about 12 : 30pm. and the sun was shining brightly in Musheshe Village. Police surrounded Mzee Bwonda's home to arrest the people at the marriage ceremony.

When police arrived, there was silence at the ceremony. Everybody got scared. They knew trouble had befallen them. The master of ceremonies became speechless. He was the first to be handcuffed. This caused even more anxiety among the guests and the family members. The other arrested were the bridegroom, the best man, the bride's parents and the bridegroom's company. The villagers who had gathered to witness the marriage got surprised. They did not know that the bride was below eighteen years of age. She actually looked bigger than her age.

As the police took the arrested people, the villagers broke into the kitchen. The children shared the chicken that had been prepared for the guests. And the women carried the cooked food in banana leaves to their homes. The men also stole the cocks, salt, soap and sugar from Mzee Bwonda's garage. It was just party after party for the villagers.

After a few days, the arrested people were produced in court. They were charged with forced marriage. The judge sentenced them to two years in prison. The 15 – year – old girl was taken back to school. But the memories of that Friday are still fresh in her mind. She cries whenever she narrates the story about how police saved her from early marriage.

Pearl of Africa, my motherland
Proud I am to belong here
And assured is my welfare
As I live in the blessed country
With all the precious things God created

Pearl of Africa, my motherland
Plenty of food and rain you have ever
And hunger can never affect people here
For rain falls but no snow falls
As it is in European countries

Pearl of Africa my motherland
Pretty name Uganda we call you ever
A beautiful country with hospitality for foreigners
See all the black South Sudanese here
And the brown Europeans with long noses
What a friendly country we have!
