SECTION B

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follows in full sentences.

"Hully up, the invigilators are already checking the candidates!" one of my classmates exclaimed. I saw other candidates rushing to the examination room to have their bodies checked.

Reaching the examination room, my classmates were the ones acting as invigilators to check the candidates. I was surprised. I had to ask Zena, my friend, what was going on. He told me that they had started with a briefing by the "head teacher" who was also one of the candidates.

So , I displayed myself for the check-up amidst confusion. As soon as we settled in the properly arranged classroom, the "invigilators" distributed examination papers. I said to myself, "This should be serious!"

Reading the examination paper, it was just a revision paper. They ordered us to begin answering the questions and we had to. When the ending time clocked, the bell was rung and we all stood up. The "invigilators" collected the scripts and sealed them properly in an envelope. Hardly had the exercise ended when all the candidates burst into laughter. I asked Philip, my classmate, what was going on. He told me that the class had been role playing what exactly takes place before and during the PLE exercise. I also smiled in disbelief, having realised that the whole exercise was just practice.

It makes all of us proud
To find many useful people
With whom we live in our community
Because of the services they give us
To earn a better living.

He wakes up very early
Gets out his new bicycle
Puts his books on the carrier
Then he rides to meet us at school
To give us knowledge in all subjects.

She is always with her hoe
With her cooked food for lunch
Then she goes to her potato garden
To ensure all the weeds are removed
So that we can get what to eat.

Have you seen the health worker?
Very smart in his white gown
Sitting at the health centre
Making sure all his patients are well
And they go back home satisfied.
