Item 1(a)

The text teaches about to be specific in prayer. It states, when you pray do not keep on babbling like pagans. Therefore, Christians need to ask God to provide them their needs so as to keep them away from evils like theft, envy and gambling.

The text teaches about monotheism as a worship practice. It states that God is our father in heaven. Therefore, Christians should stick to the worship of God alone which will keep them from the sin of idolatry.

The text teaches about importance of praising God in worship. It states hallowed be your name. Therefore Christians need to honour the name of God which will keep them away from the sin of blasphemy.

The text teaches importance of forgiveness as a worship practice. It states as we forgive have forgiven our debtors. Therefore Christians ought to forgive those who wrong against them so as to keep away from the sin of hatred and bitterness.

The text teaches about importance of repentance in worship practice. It states forgive us our debts. Therefore Christians should always repent of their sin so as to be forgiven by God.

Item 1b

God is all knowing according Islam. Islam teaches that Allah knows each and everything and nothing is hidden before him. This is similar to the bible text Statement that "for your Father knows what you need before you ask him".

God is a creator according to Islam. Moslem teach that Allah is the creator of the universe and everything in it. This is in line with the Statement in the bible text that "our father in heaven".

God is Holy according to Islam. In Islam Allah is regarded as sinless and falseless. This is similar to the reflection in the bible text that "Hallowed be your name".

God is a provider according to Islam. Moslems believe in Allah as a giver of everything including life. This is in line with the bible text which States "Give us today our daily bread".

God is merciful according to Islam. In its teaching Islam encourages moslems to always ask for forgiveness from Allah. This is also inline with the expression in the text that "forgive us our debts".

Item 2

Husbands should respect their marital vows. The text states because the Lord is acting as witness between you and the wife of your youth. Therefore by respecting their vows they will stay together for their rest of their lives.

Husbands should be faithful in their marriage. The text states guard yourself in your spirit and do not break faith with the wife of your youth. Therefore faithfulness will build trust and peace in their marriages.

Husbands should promote unity in their marriages. The text states "Has not the Lord made them one in flesh and spirit. Therefore unity will bring understanding and development in marriage.

Husbands should produce children only in marriage. The text states that God is seeking for godly offspring from such a union. Therefore this will bring peace and harmony in their marriages.

Husbands need to treat their wives fairly. The text states I hate a man covering himself with violence. This will enable the family members to plan together for the good of their marriage.

Husbands should ensure permanency in their marriages. The text states "I hate divorce say the Lord God of Israel. This will promote love in the family.

2b)

In traditional Africa only women were to be faithful to their husbands and men were free to have many wives. This was done because men were regarded to be superior to their wives who were regarded inferior to men. This is different from the text message which calls upon men to remain faithful to the wives of their youth.

In traditional Africa men were allowed to practice polygamy. Men who married many wives were accorded respect and even chosen to be leaders. This is different from the message in the biblical text which is advocating for monogamy.

In African traditional society divorce was allowed for certain reasons. In traditional African men could be allowed to divorce their wives on the approval of elders. This differs from the message in the bible text which states "I hate divorce says the Lord the God of Israel" hence advocating for permanancy.

In African traditional society husband had a right to discipline their wives. In traditional society men could beat their wives whenever they made mistakes. This differs from the message in the text that men husbands should treat their wives fairly.

The bible teaches that money should be obtained in a right way and through honesty.
