SAMPLE SUMMARY.

WHY UGANDAN WOMEN EXPERIENCE DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND WHY IT STILL GOES ON.

Women generally accept domestic violence as part of the male-female relationship. Traditional norms teach women to ~~accept~~ accept and tolerate it. Neglecting children, going out without informing husbands and arguing with them cause domestic violence. Denying them sex, burning food, women being poor and uneducated cause violence. Alcohol consumption, disagreements over money and unfaithfulness are other causes. Leaving children to cry and not working hard enough to look for food for the the family lead to harrassment. It still goes on because most women do not report fearing reprisals from husbands and embarrassment. Other reasons are poverty, ignorance of the law and where to report.
